

Parent Tip – Week 8

Purpose:

We want our child(ren) to Make Good Choices. When children Make Good Choices, they will have better relationships, experience more positive outcomes, and be more successful.

Tip:

If we want our children to grow up to be caring spouses, nurturing parents, and productive citizens, we must expose them to adults who behave that way and who teach and encourage these skills. As parents, we are one of the most influential role models our children witness. How we respond to situations influences how our children will respond. When we stay calm and respond by making the right choice, we model how we want our children to behave.

“Most kids hear what you say; some kids do what you say; but all kids do what you do.”
Kathleen Casey Theisen