Purpose:

We want to teach our child(ren) to use Kind Words. When you use Kind Words, you will make the other person feel better and increase the chance that they will listen to you.

Lesson:

This week we talk about using Kind Words. It is good to introduce this poster alongside Ask Permission. Model for the students the significant impact of Asking Permission using please and thank you, versus Asking permission using a demanding tone.

First – Say the four kind words and have your child(ren) repeat them after you.

Second – Talk about the reasons and situations when it is important to use Kind Words.

Third – Practice. Role play a time when your child(ren) would need to use Kind Words. For example, if they would like to go play or work with a friend, they need to ask the question nicely using “please” then wait for the answer and say “thank you”.

The following page has a printable poster of Kind Words.
